

After 36 incredible years of dedication, loyalty, and service, Joe Zelenak is closing his parts catalog and heading into a well-earned retirement.

Joe holds a special place in EAPW's story. He first started with Steve in 1985 at the NAPA store in Morrisville, PA. Four years later, Steve asked if he would take a chance and help start a store from scratch in Langhorne. Joe thankfully said yes, and off they went. On opening day, they both stood for a few minutes as the phones weren't ringing and decided to lock the doors and make sales calls. They came back at 4 p.m., and the phones were ringing! Thankfully, customers started calling. Joe was our very first counterperson - at a time when we were just getting started, he helped lay the foundation for what EAPW would become - a team built on hard work, deep product knowledge, and a passion for taking care of customers.

Joe had an excellent relationship with customers and a knack for finding anything they needed. Over the years, Joe became the go-to guy for countless technicians and coworkers. He was known for his encyclopedic knowledge of parts and his commitment to getting the right part every time. Whether it was tracking down a hard-to-find item, showing a new hire the ropes, or cracking a quick joke behind the counter, Joe always delivered.

Joe was consistently one of our top 10 (often #1) in counter sales thanks to his relationship-building skills and amazing ability to get the right parts to customers the first time. Loyal and dedicated, he showed up every day and gave it everything he had. He still holds the largest collection of catalogs in the company! He's seen it all and played a huge role as EAPW grew from a single store to a 40-plus location operation. But even more than that, Joe has always been family.

Joe, thank you for everything you've done - not just for the business, but for the people. Your impact is lasting, and your legacy lives on in the culture, the customers, and the many people you've helped along the way. A retirement well deserved. Thanks, Joe - you will be missed. Wishing you nothing but health, happiness, and plenty of R&R in retirement. Don't be a stranger. There will always be a spot at the counter for you.

Cheers to you, Joe!

Steve, Shawn, and your friends at EAPW
